Follow The Haiku Trail Through Sheffield City Centre

These poems are part of a Haiku Trail snaking through the city centre - part of the 2010 Sheffield Children's Festival. The trail of poems starts on The Moor and continues through the Winter Garden, Central Library, Sheffield City Hall, Waterstones in Orchard Square, Sheffield Cathedral and finishes at Bank Street Arts on Bank Street.

More than 600 haiku poems, created by school children aged 5 to 14 are being exhibited for the duration of the festival, 12 June to 3 July. The poems have been created during workshops held in schools, hosted by poets Liz Cashdan, Linda Lee Welch, Susan Shaw and Desiree Reynolds over the last 3 months.

All the poems from the project are on display at Bank Street Arts, accompanied by poetry related games, puzzles, challenges and prizes.

The project is also being extended to anyone interested in contributing a haiku of their own. Please visit the website for details (<http://sheffieldhaiku.co.uk>)
